Greek Pageant

At a celebration of the gods, all had been invited with the exception of Eris, or Discord. Enraged at her exclusion, the goddess threw a golden apple among the guests, with the inscription, "For the fairest." Thereupon Juno, Venus, and Minerva each claimed the apple. Not willing to decide so delicate a matter, Jupiter sent the goddesses to Mount Ida where Paris, son of Priam, king of Troy was tending his flocks. Till that moment the shepherd-prince had been happy. He was young and beautiful and beloved... But to him now was committed the judgment between the goddesses... Juno promised him power and riches, Minerva, glory and renown in war, Venus the fairest of women for his wife—each attempting to bias the judge in her own favor.
